

National Geographic

Young Explorers Grants Seminar - Seoul

- Venue: Room 101, Shinsegaebuilding at Ewha Woman's University
- Date: Monday, May 23, 2016
- Programs:

- 15:00      Check-in
Online pre-registration at <http://bit.ly/1VDHCvn>
- 15:30      Introductory remark
Dr. Jae Chun Choe, University Chair Professor of EcoScience at Ewha Womans University and President of the National Institute of Ecology
- 15:45      Overview of National Geographic Society Science and Exploration Programs
Dr. Rob Lee, Director, International Science & Exploration Programs at National Geographic Society
- 15:55      Professional Grantee Presentation: Study of Rakhigarhi Site: People's Life of Indus Valley Civilization
Dr. Dong Hoon Shin, Professor, Institute of Forensic Science at Seoul National University, NG grantee of Fall 2015
- 16:15      Overview of Young Explorer Grants Program
Aram Lee, Program Officer, National Geographic Foundation for Science and Exploration - Asia
- 16:30      Young Explorers Presentation I: Why do they call together? Verification of Functional Hypotheses of Anuran Acoustic Chorus
Noori Choi, Researcher, Korea Polar Research Institute and NG YEG grantee of Fall 2015
- 16:45      Young Explorers Presentation II: How the Suweon Treefrog brought me to apply to National Geographic Young Explorers Grants Program
Amaël Borzée, PhD Candidate and NG YEG grantee of Fall 2015
- 17:00      Q&As, Refreshments and Networking